

Heard Of Cambodian Hair Yet?

Cambodian hair is collected from Cambodian donors. Its texture most times depends on the hair texture of the donor and resembles beautiful African American natural relaxed hair. This hair type comes in four main textures, straight, wavy, curly and our signature kinky, which is rare. It is naturally and lusciously gorgeous. At the same time, it is incredibly lightweight, which enables you to add in your natural hair if you wish. Our hair comes in natural color only and lengths from 14 inches to 30 inches and our undetectable frontals come in 13x6 HD clear lace and will look and act just like your own hair growing out of your scalp. More so, Cambodian hair is durable and lasts longer than most other hair types. Additionally, this type of hair extension could be treated like your natural hair; you can color it professionally by a licensed stylist.

6 Things you should know about Cambodian Hair?

FEATURES OF CAMBODIAN HAIR

1. Texture

While other hair type like Vietnamese hair is well-known for its softness, Cambodian hair is known for its three textures and smoothness. It is a popular option for many women because its texture blends well with almost all hair types. Also, it doesn't tangle and that's less time you have to spend brushing or combing.

Additionally, Cambodian hair is slightly coarse in nature which makes it the best hair to hold a curl. Its texture enables it to hold a curl for about 2 weeks whereby other hair types can't. Equally, it withstands more heat than most hair types.

2. HEALTHY CUTICLES

Cambodian hair is collected from a hair donor, and it has never been processed or chemically treated. Its cuticles are usually intact and naturally aligned in the same direction which reduces the risk of matting and tangling.

3. LESS GREY HAIR

Most Cambodian women give their hair special treatments that keep their hair strong and healthy. These treatments come with no chemical products. Equally, they live on a good diet that is good for their hair. For example, Cambodian women adorn their hair with natural shampoos and conditioners such as coconut and palm oil.

4. NATURAL COLOUR

Cambodian hair, in particular, has a genuine natural colour which is a milder shade of black. Vendors call this Colour 1b or off black. Sometimes it can come in a softer shade of black called colour 2.

5. COLOURING AND BLEACHING

This particular hair type is the best when it comes to colouring and bleaching. Cambodian hair takes to bleaching and/or colouring very well but, however, we strongly advised that it should be done by a professional, using good quality colouring materials.

6. HAIR SMELL

All raw hair is supposed to have a clean natural smell when you receive it since it's from another human being just like you. It doesn't have the machine-made synthetic smell that most other hair types on the market smell like.
